

Cheer for the future of China's industrialization, the whole country supports the three Sino-Soviet agreements, and thanks the Soviet people for the great internationalism spirit (1950)

northeast

[Xinhua News Agency on the 5th] People from all walks of life in the Northeast are unanimously excited for the Sino-Soviet agreement to jointly establish three companies. Zhang Weizhen, chairman of the Northeast Federation of Trade Unions, said: These three agreements will effectively promote the development of industrial construction in New China. With the development of industrial construction, they will bring increasing happiness to the working class. Workers in the Northeast will work hard to improve technology and establish a high degree of responsibility to ensure that the national industrial production plan is completed on time, to show their support for these three agreements. The Northeast General Branch of the China-Soviet Friendship Association, the Northeast Working Committee of the New Democratic Youth League, the Northeast Student Federation, and the Northeast Democratic Women's Federation all expressed their opinions and expressed their infinite joy and support. Xu Yingnian, Director of the Department of Industry of the People's Government of Heilongjiang Province, said: China is an industrially backward country. In the past, due to imperialist aggression and oppression, heavy industry and aviation were not developed, and abundant oil and non-ferrous metal minerals were buried underground. Mining. The establishment of Sino-Soviet Petroleum and Nonferrous Metals Joint Stock Company will solve the extremely important source of raw materials for the construction of New China's heavy industry and enable China's industrial construction to move forward. This has made us workers and mines more confident in building an industrialized new China. Wang Qingzheng, vice chairman of the Consultative Committee of the Heilongjiang Provincial People's Congress, said: The new Sino-Soviet agreement proves that only the Soviet Union, a socialist country, can help the Chinese people build and develop China's industry. Our people from all walks of life in the province express our deep gratitude to the Soviet people for their great internationalist spirit. Deng Jianqiao, vice chairman of the Harbin China-Soviet Friendship Association, said: The entire policy of the U.S. government is to turn China into its colony, while the great Soviet Union has helped us to accelerate industrialization and wipe out imperialism and domestic reactionaries faster. Caused by the backward state of China's economy. We Chinese people sincerely welcome the development of this economic cooperation between the Soviet Union and our country. People from all walks of life in Liaoxi Province also expressed their support for this agreement.

East China

[Xinhua News Agency, Shanghai, 5th] People from all parts of East China enthusiastically support the signing of an agreement between China and the Soviet Union to establish two joint-stock companies for petroleum and non-ferrous metals in Xinjiang and an agreement for the establishment of a Sino-Soviet civil aviation joint-stock company. The Nanjing Federation of Trade Unions, which includes 70,000 members, issued a written opinion saying: The signing of the three agreements indicates that the friendship between China and the Soviet Union is further developed. The agreement stipulates that Xinjiang oil and non-ferrous metals should be jointly surveyed and exploited, and the company will take turns to serve as the company's head and deputy heads, which fully embodies the spirit of equality and mutual benefit. Sa Zhenbing, Deputy Director of the Preparatory Office of the Fuzhou

Branch of the China-Soviet Friendship Association, said: With the correct leadership of the People's Government and the assistance of Soviet friendship, the underground rich deposits in Xinjiang, China's largest province, can now be exploited to supply the country's industrial construction needs. used. Wu Liangjie, director of the preparatory committee of the Fujian Federation of Trade Unions, said: These three agreements have inspired the Fujian working class to fight more closely against blockades and bombings, support the People's Liberation Army in cross-sea operations, eliminate remnants, and jointly carry out industrial construction. Gu Dehuan, Director of the Department of Industry and Mines of the People's Government of Zhejiang Province, said: This agreement on equal rights and joint shares for the development of China's basic industries is in full compliance with the interests of the people of China and the Soviet Union, and is particularly conducive to China's industrialization. Cooperation, it is completely impossible for us in China to set up such a large-scale oil and non-ferrous metal mining work in the difficult period when the whole country has just been liberated and the war has not completely ended. Shi Jingtang, vice president of the Xuzhou branch of the China-Soviet Friendship Association, said: The establishment of the three companies will help the construction of a new democratic economy and will shorten the process of China's industrialization. Xia Zhengnong, chairman of the Jinan branch of the China-Soviet Friendship Association, said: These three agreements have dealt another major blow to US imperialism, telling them: The friendship between China and the Soviet Union is unbreakable! The Qingdao Municipal Democratic Women's Federation Preparatory Committee issued a written opinion saying: The signing of the new agreement marks the increasingly close unity of the Chinese and Soviet people. The person in charge of the preparatory committee of the city's Federation of Industry and Commerce believes that these agreements are another strong guarantee for the rapid development of China's industry.

Central South

[Xinhua News Agency, Hankou, 5th] People from all walks of life in the Central South District unanimously enthusiastically support the signing of the three agreements on the joint establishment of petroleum, non-ferrous metals and civil airlines. Wu Zili, Deputy Minister of Communications of the Central-South African Military and Political Committee, praised the Sino-Soviet joint operation of civil airlines as a new era in China's aviation industry. Zhou Qide, manager of Huazhong Petroleum Company, pointed out: In the past, during the rule of the Kuomintang reactionaries, China's oil market was completely monopolized and controlled by the United States and the United Kingdom, and used it to extract a lot of money from China. In the future, with the assistance of the brotherhood of the Soviet Union, China's oil industry will be able to obtain conditions for full development. Industrialist Mao Bosheng believes that the exploitation of petroleum and non-ferrous metals will accelerate the realization of industrialization in China. The Hubei Province China-Soviet Friendship Association issued a written statement supporting these agreements and issued notices to the branches, calling for immediate and extensive propaganda to smash the shameless rumors of imperialism and reactionaries, and to break the suspicion of some people. People from all walks of life in Kaifeng in Henan and Nanchang in Jiangxi compared the assistance of socialist countries to China with the destruction and oppression of China by imperialist countries, and pointed out the great significance of these agreements. Fu Fochen, an industrial and commercial person in Kaifeng City, said: With the enthusiastic assistance of the great Soviet Union, China will completely get rid of all imperialist oppression. Looking back at all the mining industries co-organized with imperialist countries in the history of China, they have all suffered imperialist capture. For example, the Jiaozuo Coal Mine in Henan Province had absorbed most of its profits under the control of the United Kingdom, and its mining technology was not known to the Chinese. But the current Sino-Soviet agreement is completely equal and mutually beneficial. Li Zhangda, now a member of the Central Committee of the Revolutionary Committee of the Kuomintang in Guangzhou, said: We sincerely welcome the Soviet Union with advanced technology to help China develop urgently needed resources and develop China's naive civil aviation industry. Situ Meitang, a member of the National Committee of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference, said: We overseas Chinese enthusiastically support the Sino-Soviet agreement on the joint establishment of petroleum, non-ferrous metal and civil aviation companies. This will shorten our process of turning an agricultural country into an industrial country. The articles of association, personnel, capital, and profits of the three companies are based on the spirit of equality, friendship, mutual assistance and cooperation between China and the Soviet Union.

Tianjin

[Xinhua News Agency, Tianjin, 5th] People from all walks of life in Tianjin support the Sino-Soviet agreement on petroleum, non-ferrous metal joint stock company and civil aviation joint stock company. Huang Huoqing, director of the Tianjin Federation of Trade Unions, said: This agreement is based on equality and mutual benefit between China and the Soviet Union. It will strengthen economic cooperation between the two countries. At the same time, due to the establishment of the two companies, it will also cultivate many technical personnel for China. . Luo Yun, director of the Municipal Democratic Women's Federation, Zhang Huaisan, director of the Municipal Youth League Working Committee, and He Qijun, director of the Democratic Youth Federation, unanimously expressed support for the Sino-Soviet agreement. Zhou Shutao, general manager of Qixin Cement Company, said: Petroleum and non-ferrous metals are the things that our Chinese industry needs most, but with our existing manpower, material resources and experience in China, there is absolutely no way to mine them alone. Now the Soviet Union is totally in the spirit of helping us to join us in equity joint operations, which is our most welcome. Bi Mingqi, manager of China Animal Trading Company, said: Oil is in great demand in China. It has always been imported from the United Kingdom and the United States. The annual import volume of non-ferrous metals is also quite large. The two items cost my country a lot of foreign exchange. Now the Soviet Union is helping us extract oil and non-ferrous metals in Xinjiang. This is unanimously welcomed by the Chinese people. Li Zhuchen, general manager of Jiuda Salt Industry Company, and Zhu Jisheng, general manager of Renli Industrial Company, all expressed their support for the agreement between China and the Soviet Union.